conze s monograph the principle of contradiction on the theory of dialectical materialism is his most important philosophical work and the foundation for his later publications as a buddhist scholar and translator the openly marxist work was published under considerable risk to both printer and author alike in december 1932 in hamburg germany only months later in may 1933 almost all of the five hundred copies of the first edition were destroyed during the nazi book burning campaign it is only now more than eighty years later that conze s key philosophical work is made available to a broad audience in this english translation in the work conze sets out to develop a detailed account of the historical and material conditions that support the emergence production and transmission of theoretical knowledge as exemplified by the principle of contradiction and furthermore to show that under different social and historical conditions the allegedly necessary truth and indubitable content of the principle would dissolve and be replaced by a radically different understanding of the principle of contradiction a dialectic understanding of the principle that would compel a rejection of the aristotelian dogma from a marxist perspective the analysis and critique of the principle of contradiction is a crucial and necessary step towards a dialectical understanding of philosophical and political theory and practice conze s monograph which attempts to clear the ground for a deeper understanding of the very foundation of classical marxist thought may very well be the most comprehensive marxist critique of the aristotelian principle of contradiction available to this day however conze s pioneering 1932 monograph goes well beyond the constraints of an orthodox marxist analysis his erudite and scholarly account of the history and evolution of the principle of contradiction illuminates the thought of aristotle marx and buddha and provides the groundwork for a new cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach to philosophical theory and practice the premise of this book is that individuals and societies have an inexorable urge to morally develop by challenging the assumptions of the previous generation in terms of what is right and wrong the focus is on the nature and functional value of conflicts and challenges to the dominant moral and social values framework through this analysis individuals develop moral character through conflict with their local authority figures including parents the moral structure of societies evolves through intergenerational challenges to and contradictions with the dominant social order the book is divided into three parts to help frame this discussion part i directly takes up the issue of resistance as it occurs at a cultural level and the implications of such resistance for moral education and socialization part ii explores the normative forms of adolescent resistance and contrarian behavior that vex parents and teachers alike part iii brings back the issue of societal structure and culture to illustrate how negative features of society such as racial discrimination and economic disparity can feed into the construction of negative moral identity in youth posing challenges to moral education taken together this collection presents a rich counterpoint to the pictures of moral growth as the progressive sophistication of moral reasoning or the gradual accretion of moral virtues and cultural values it will benefit those in developmental social and cognitive psychology as well as sociology political science and education
